Entry Level Professionals Workshop

First-Generation Student Success Through Leadership

A recent post by Elizabeth Hammond through the Student Leadership Programs Knowledge Community within NASPA prompts college administrators to think about first-generation student success through the lens of student leadership. Elizabeth Hammond asks much needed questions to illuminate what resources are available on campus for first-gen students, what we are already doing well to support first-gen student success, and what might need to change to better meet needs and help first-gen students thrive. As we continue our summers preparing for our student leaders to return to campus, we should look critically at our the different aspects of our leadership programs, training, and curriculum.
